

voters on the books, and the widespread interest in the various contests and the multiplicity of candidates in the field impelled them to turn out and vote. At Burton Heights, the heaviest portion of the vote was polled before midday, and the name was true of other precincts adjacent to the city.

At Shumaker's, which is just on the western extremity of the city, the field was not so wide as in other precincts, and there was never a time when there were not as many as fifty voters, workers and candidates around the precinct. It is here that the old soldier vote is polled, and the old gray-headed veterans huddled over in large numbers to cast their ballots for their respective favorites. Great crowds were also on hand at Baker's, Hardin's Shop, Howard's Grove and other nearby precincts, while in those remote from the city, the farmers and truckers voted quietly, and for the most part returned promptly to their homes. There were admirable police regulations at all the precincts, and all persons, save those in the act of voting, were kept at a distance of forty feet from the polling places by means of ropes.

The candidates were all very active throughout the day. They were prohibited under the Barksdale bill from doing more than greeting their friends and workers about the polls, but they did this in a most gracious manner, and were fitting in buggies from precinct to precinct from early morn till dewy eve.

Mann Bill Issue.
The Mann Bill issue was apparently the only principle involved in the canvass, and this reached only to the fight for the House of Delegates. All the county officers were contested, but it was merely a question of personal choice between the gentlemen who aspired to fill them.

It was not so with the House race. The issue was clear cut on the Mann bill, and Mr. Rosenegk stood as the champion of the opposition to the measure. Mr. Gardner, Judge Wickham and Captain Blanford favored the bill, but they and Mr. Polk, Mr. Jones divided the Mann bill vote and the way to victory lay for Mr. Rosenegk. Mr. Gardner practically gave up the fight in conversation with close friends, though he kept up the battle as well as his spirits until the end, and was as bright and cheery in defeat as in victory.

The early returns indicated that Mr. Rosenegk was probably an easy winner, and his friends were enthusiastic from the start. He defeated Mr. Gardner by two votes in the latter's home precinct, Chestnut Hill, but the vote there of Messrs. Wickham and Blanford would have given to Gardner had the latter gentlemen been out of the race, and would have given the popular young representative a handsome lead. Still, the result would have been unchanged, as Mr. Rosenegk ran well almost everywhere.

Shumaker's Precinct.
Wagons, carriages and every conceivable conveyance was rendezvoused at Shumaker's Precinct, in Tuckahoe, about 6 o'clock. The scenes in and around the forty-yard line were those of the days when politics in the Old Dominion were the most animated. Congregated in the crowds were almost every candidate, from the most remunerative officer to the overseer of the poor. Nothing to disturb the tranquility of the day transpired, while the special officers of the law were kept busy keeping the workers outside the forty-foot line.

The scene between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock at Shumaker's reminded the oldest citizens of the county of days of the ante-bellum. Fully 400 men were congregated in the latter's home precinct, and the scene was a most unusual one. Citizens of Richmond were on the scene of battle and worked hard for their respective favorites.

Shumaker's generally polls the largest vote in the county and eager listeners were gathered in before 6 o'clock. There was a large crowd of the county to receive them. The vote was small, only seventy-eight having been polled, so the count was completed with great expedition. This precinct is perhaps the most remote of all from the courthouse, but the returns were accessible early through the use of the telephone. There was a long wait before any other precinct reported. Meanwhile the crowd waited gathered in larger proportions and discussed the progress of the day. A few more city people, interested to a more or less extent in one candidate or another, were among those present, and little knots of men gathered here and there, putting their heads close together in discussing the results.

Short Pump First.
The first precinct to report was Short Pump, in Tuckahoe district. The returns were phoned in before 6 o'clock, and there was a large crowd of the county to receive them. The vote was small, only seventy-eight having been polled, so the count was completed with great expedition. This precinct is perhaps the most remote of all from the courthouse, but the returns were accessible early through the use of the telephone. There was a long wait before any other precinct reported. Meanwhile the crowd waited gathered in larger proportions and discussed the progress of the day. A few more city people, interested to a more or less extent in one candidate or another, were among those present, and little knots of men gathered here and there, putting their heads close together in discussing the results.

When Short Pump reported the friends of the candidates who had there were jubilant, though they could only claim that this was a straw, indicating the course of the wind, which was liable to be shed a dozen times before the break of day.

Chestnut Hill was the second precinct to report. It came in by phone about 6:30 and the deepest interest was manifested in the figures as they were read out. It was here that Mr. W. J. "Toby" Fouse, handsome lad over his competitors, and his friends began at once to claim that his chances were very bright. Mr. Broadhead defeated Mr. Waddill at this precinct by four majority, and Mr. Taylor got a good lead over Mr. Solomon. The first two precincts showed Mr. Bryant third in the race for Commonwealth's attorney, and put Mr. Throckmorton ahead of Mr. Wendenburg. Still the latter's friends were well by the early returns, and declared that their favorite would pull up to the front on the home stretch.

At 10:30 o'clock, although but two precincts had reported, interest was again kindled in the results, and men who had labored faithfully for their respective favorites at the polls all day stood out beneath the bright autumnal skies, showing not the slightest signs of fatigue, anxious to learn if their efforts at the polls had been availing.

BROOKLAND DISTRICT.
The contest for district officers in Brookland Precinct was spirited, and the positions of constable and county commissioner alone being contested. The only contest for the committee was for Mr. Jones. Mr. Sheppard defeated Mr. Jones.

For commissioner of the revenue, Mr. Cady defeated Mr. Sheppard by a plurality of 154.
For supervisor, Messrs. Saunders and Penick, both of whom polled the same vote. The figures are: Floyd, 317; Saunders, 201; Penick, 201.
For magistrate, "Squire" Darriault leads all his opponents by a safe margin. The Another Winning Sale.

If you don't go to the sail of Shamrock III and the Reliance, you can at least come to our sale—perhaps not so much excitement—but more profit for you.

LAST SEASON'S

Fall and Winter Suits

assembled in two grand lots and offered you, beginning this morning, at the following ATTRACTIVE REDUCTIONS:

Choice of all Season
Old $12.50, $14.00 and $15.00 Suits at $9.75

Choice of all Season
Old $18.00, $20.00 and $22.00 Suits at $12.50

These Suits are all fresh appearing, handsome and finely tailored garments—but our custom is mandatory to clear counters for the incoming stock, hence these timely and attractive offerings.

First comers will, undoubtedly, fare better.

O. H. BERRY & CO.

vote stands: Darriault, 673; Floyd, 594; Sale, 518; Ruskell, 473.
These county committees received the vote stated in their several precincts: O'Bannon, 107; L. Major, 137; Johnson, 126; Shepard, 124.

Chestnut Hill.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Caskie E. Smith, 116; James W. Childrey, 73.
For Supervisor—C. W. Saunders, 48; J. Herbert Floyd, 43; J. W. Penick, 33.
For Magistrate—R. J. Sale, 100; Ruskell, 65; Thomas Darriault, 83; Ruskell, 65; Childrey, 32.
For Constable—Waldrop, 120.
For Overseer of the Poor—George E. Conway, 75.

Hungars.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Smith, 67; Childrey, 116.
For Supervisor—Saunders, 120; Penick, 65; Floyd, 33.
For Magistrate—Sale, 100; Ruskell, 118; Darriault, 83; Childrey, 32.
For Constable—Waldrop, 120.
For Overseer of the Poor—Litchfield, 107.
For County Committee—Jones, 73; Shepard, 124.

Brunins.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Smith, 31; Childrey, 95.
For Supervisor—Saunders, 10; Floyd, 42.
For Magistrate—Sale, 88; Ruskell, 61; Darriault, 116; Floyd, 63.
For Constable—Waldrop, 120.
For Overseer of the Poor—Litchfield, 107.
For County Committee—O'Bannon, 124.

Barton Heights.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Smith, 74; Childrey, 124.
For Supervisor—Saunders, 121; Floyd, 37; Penick, 33.
For Magistrate—Sale, 140; Ruskell, 65; Darriault, 164; Floyd, 120.
For Constable—Waldrop, 120.
For Overseer of the Poor—Litchfield, 107.
For County Committee—O'Bannon, 124.

Jones.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Smith, 42; Childrey, 116.
For Supervisor—Saunders, 5; Floyd, 131; Penick, 25.
For Magistrate—Sale, 87; Ruskell, 76; Darriault, 116; Floyd, 63.
For Constable—Waldrop, 120.
For Overseer of the Poor—Litchfield, 107.
For County Committee—L. Myer, 127.

VARINA DISTRICT.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Pfleger, 30; Kemp, 116.
For Supervisor—Fraser, 131; Haeley, 37.

Whitlock's.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Pfleger, 37; Kemp, 116.
For Supervisor—Fraser, 29; Yahley, 84; Guy, 6.
For Magistrate—Friend, 64; Robinson, 60.
For Constable—Samuel, 65.
For Overseer of the Poor—W. P. Warner, 67.
For County Committee—Cornwall, 66.

Town Hall.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Pfleger, 37; Kemp, 116.
For Supervisor—Fraser, 65; Yahley, 84; Guy, 6.
For Magistrate—Friend, 129; Robinson, 125.
For Constable—Samuel, 125.
For Overseer of the Poor—Warrior, 140.
For County Committee—Cornwall, 140.

TUCKAHOE DISTRICT.
Short Pump.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Caskie E. Smith, 33; Charles W. Childrey, 73.
For Supervisor—L. W. Browning, 73.
For Magistrate—James T. Lewis, 61; T. H. Jackson, 65; C. N. Wyatt, 62; Edwin Rurg, 32.
For Constable—L. D. Ford, 46; Charles O. Jones, 46; E. E. Eubank, 46.
For County Committee—C. G. Hurlin, 131.

Ridge Church.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Caskie E. Smith, 71; Charles W. Childrey, 74.
For Supervisor—Caskie E. Smith, 71; Charles W. Childrey, 74.
For Magistrate—Lewis, 31; Jackson, 56; Wyatt, 77; Rurg, 46.
For Constable—Eubank, 17; Burch, 21; Ford, 54.
For Overseer of the Poor—Conway, 91.
For County Committee—Michaels, 45.

FAIRFIELD DISTRICT.
Baker's.
For Commissioner of Revenue—Pfleger, 22; Kemp, 172.
For Supervisor—Allen, 31; Barnes, 69; Johnson, 63.
For Magistrate—Tiller, 23; Gibson, 33; Thornton, 15; Thomas, 50; Angle, 100; Hinford, 25; Martin, 87; McCabe, 44.
For Constable—Brothers, 18; Temple, 15; News, 11; Hobson, 66; Franklin, 32; Camp, 21; Crabbin, 11.
For Overseer of the Poor—Burger, 191.
For County Committee—John E. Smith, 126.

Four Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills
Sold by all druggists, 25 cents

SIX GOOD CIGARS

SAVED SIX LIVES

Dramatic Instances in Which the Weed Worked Against Fate.

This may not be a sufficient excuse for cultivating a fondness for tobacco in general and an expensive habit in particular. It excused the habit, but it's strangely true that cigars, generally good cigars, have many times saved valuable human lives.

M. Guizot, the great French historian, for instance, owes his life to a cigar. One day he was walking in one of the gardens of Paris when he noticed that he was being followed by a shabbily dressed fellow who evidently had some purpose in view which included the historian.

M. Guizot finally sat down on a bench and his unwelcome follower seated himself there also, all the time watching him with a threatening air which might have proved disastrous to the historian if he had not been so busy with "nerves." The historian was not troubled. He pulled a cigar out of his pocket and lit it.

At that action the strange man arose and muttered that he had been mistaken, as the second he meant to kill did not smoke. Guizot, however, was considerably puzzled by this occurrence until he learned several days afterward that a man who had followed him had been arrested for a murderous assault on a public official, against whom he had a grudge.

The late King Humbert, of Italy, in his youth was a habitual smoker. One day while driving through the streets of Naples he happened to drop a cigar which he had just lighted. He noticed that a singularly dejected-looking citizen, dressed in a ragged coat, was following him from the street. He thought nothing more of the matter until some months later, when it was called to his memory upon receipt of an unsigned letter from the man who had been on the verge of committing suicide when he had chanced to drop the cigar which the King had dropped.

The smoking of this, he said, had changed the moodiness of his thoughts for the better, and he had been so happy that he had decided to take a long journey when the man with whom he was looking in the compartment drew a true-looking knife from his pocket and announced that he intended to kill him.

Mr. Gould, President Sinterling, Major Martin, Mr. North, General Manager Huff, Engineers Whitner, Whitfield and Whitely and Superintendent Buchanan and Mr. Bayne went to Petersburg over the interurban line of the company, inspecting that property and the site of the proposed giant power plant on the Appomattox River.

Mr. Gould and his friend are at the Jefferson. He has not formulated his plans further than to say that he will probably remain here several days, possibly a week.

LINES INSPECTED BY MR. FRANK GOULD

Mr. Frank Gould and his friend, Mr. Jasper Bayne, of New York, are still in the city, and will probably remain here for a week.

Mr. Gould, President Sinterling, Major Martin, Mr. North, General Manager Huff, Engineers Whitner, Whitfield and Whitely and Superintendent Buchanan and Mr. Bayne went to Petersburg over the interurban line of the company, inspecting that property and the site of the proposed giant power plant on the Appomattox River.

Mr. Gould and his friend are at the Jefferson. He has not formulated his plans further than to say that he will probably remain here several days, possibly a week.

FLOWERS OF PREY

Insects of Form and Color of Orchids Which They Prey Think Plants.

Probably in some respects the most surprising result of late entomological exploration is the discovery of semblances of orchidaceous flowers endowed with animal life and voracious carnivorous appetites, that seize and inconspicuously devour insects and other small animals.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

These flower insects belong to the curious family Mantidae, of which we have a well-known member in our Southern States, Phasma carolinensis, commonly called "praying mantis," though it is the first part of the name was spelled with an "e" instead of an "i." The insect is more appropriately named since no known insect is more bloodthirsty and destructive of smaller insects.

AS TO SUICIDES

Some Interesting Figures That Show Who Take Their Lives.

"Speaking of suicides, I ran across an interesting lot of statistics the other day, and I learned a few things that I had not known before," said a man who had been interested in the subject of vital statistics, "and I want to make the statistics right at the start, the married men are more prone to take their lives than the single men."

The statistics show that shooting is a favorite method of ending life. I had always believed, but without any basis for my belief, that the most popular means of suicide. The following facts will show the means adopted in 10,000 suicides: Drowning 3,000; hanging 2,000; shooting 1,500; jumping 1,000; poisoning 1,000; cutting 500; and other means 500.

Prof. S. Kurz, while at Pagan, in lower Burma, saw what he supposed to be a new species of a species of butterfly. Upon examination he found it to be a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus.

Prof. S. Kurz, while at Pagan, in lower Burma, saw what he supposed to be a new species of a species of butterfly. Upon examination he found it to be a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus.

Prof. S. Kurz, while at Pagan, in lower Burma, saw what he supposed to be a new species of a species of butterfly. Upon examination he found it to be a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus.

Prof. S. Kurz, while at Pagan, in lower Burma, saw what he supposed to be a new species of a species of butterfly. Upon examination he found it to be a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus.

Prof. S. Kurz, while at Pagan, in lower Burma, saw what he supposed to be a new species of a species of butterfly. Upon examination he found it to be a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus. As is well known, a species of butterfly is a mantis of the genus Gonyllus.

THE DAY ON THE DIAMOND

Records of the National and American Leagues.

PHILLIES & BOSTON SPLIT
Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Philadelphia Won First Game and Were Shut Out in the Second—The Champions Won from Cincinnati—St. Louis-Chicago.

Tate Spring Water

FROM THE ONLY EPSOM SPRING IN AMERICA.

Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous disorders, kidney disease, etc.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS OR DIRECT FROM SPRING.

Tate Spring Hotel, the Famous Resort, Now Open.

THOS. TOMLINSON, TATE SPRING, TENN.

A. A. SCOTT, Druggist, Twenty-fifth and Broad Streets, Agent.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

Street Railway Officials Are Acquitted.

INDICTMENT IS DISMISSED

State Failed to Show Failure on the Part of the Accused to Perform Some Specific Act, and Jury Did Not Leave Their Seats.

(By Associated Press.)

NEWARK, N. J., September 3.—Chief Justice Gummere, in the Essex County Court of Oyer and Terminer, to-day announced that he had decided to grant the motion for the dismissal of the indictment for manslaughter against the directors and officers of the North Jersey Street Railway Company, who were accused of having, by alleged neglect of their duties, caused the death of Ernestine Miller.

Miss Miller, who was a High School pupil, was killed, with eight others, in the Clinton Avenue crossing accident on February 10th.

The motion to dismiss the indictment was made at the trial yesterday by Richard W. Lindabury, of counsel for the defendants.

In instructing the jury to find a verdict of not guilty, the chief justice said that in order to hold the defendants criminally responsible it must be shown that they had failed to perform some specific act. This the State had failed to do, he said.

The chief justice referred to the rules of the North Jersey Street Railway Company as laid down to its employees as sufficient safeguards under ordinary circumstances if they had been carried out. He said that the State had failed to show that if it had been used, as called for by the rules, had the car been stopped thirty feet from the crossing, as the rules called for, and had the conductor gone ahead to the crossing to signal the motor cars, the accident would not have happened.

Justices Van Syck and Dixon both concurred in the opinion of Chief Justice Gummere.

The jurymen announced a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats.

WITHOUT ADVICES

Brooklyn and San Francisco Expected at Beirut To-day.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—For two days the State Department has been without advice from Turkey, except a brief dispatch from Minister Leishman, telling of the Porte's warning to the embassy in Constantinople to leave the country.

The position of the Washington government continues unchanged in regard to the Turkish question.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go to work as soon as their mission is fulfilled.

As there is no intention on the part of this government to become involved in the Eastern question, it is desired that the British government should go